ABOUT ME

My career as an Assistant Director in films has taught me how much I enjoy bringing people together and making things run smoothly behind the scenes. From working with teams at Dharma, Red Chillies, and Maddock, I've learned to handle pressure, adapt quickly, and keep both the big picture and small details in mind. What I've realized through this journey is that I genuinely enjoy organizing, problem-solving, and creating experiences where people feel supported and stress-free. This is why I'm now excited to apply my skills to event and wedding management, where attention to detail, creativity, and teamwork are just as important. My goal is to bring the same dedication and care I had on film sets into creating memorable events for people in real life.
